DEEDS and MORTGAGES.—County Clerk Blain informs us that he has recorded during the year 245 deeds, 5 assignments and 95 mortgages.
CORN THIEVES.—Deputy George S. Carpenter arrested Jess. Adams and Wm. Jeffers, colored, for stealing corn from C. V. Gentry, and lodged them in jail Tuesday.
OUR charge for publishing obituaries, or obituary poetry, is five cents per line, which must accompany the manuscript if the party sending it is not known by the editor to be peculiarly responsible.
HAVING sold out my stock to my brother, R. K. Wearen, I am desirous to close up my books, and those indebted to me are requested to call and settle. R. H. Wearen.
THE ladies of the Christian Aid Society were busy decorating and beautifying their supper room yesterday, and preparing to spread the best supper to-night they have ever given. Of course everybody will attend.
MR. RANSOM CARROLL moved his family to the Poor House yesterday. Poor old man, it is hard on him at his time of life, but his friends think it is better for him as he may be able to make some money feeding the paupers at $75 per year each.
PLEASE HEAR.—We would esteem it as a favor if all persons who attend Court Monday, and know themselves indebted to this office, would call in and settle. It has cost us over $1,000 to get our Semi-Weekly started, and we need every cent that is due us.
REMEMBER that we can procure any magazine, literary or other paper for our subscribers, from fifty cents to a dollar lower than they can get them from the publishers. Harper's, Leslie's, Godey's, Peterson's, Scribner's, &c., are included in the list.
THE Lancaster Bar has raised a fund and have purchased a house and lot for the widow of the late W. D. Hupper, Esq., for $1,480. Of this sum raised, $345 was contributed by the Lancaster Bar, $90 by the Stanford Bar, and $90 by the Danville Bar. The Richmond and Harrodsburg Bars, each contributed $40.
We will have to label our facetiousness hereafter as Artemus Ward did—a joke. The Presbyterian ladies are waiting around on their sartorial appendages because we poked a little fun at their oyster soup. We take it all back. It was tip-top soup, and we are promised some to-night at the Christian supper with more than one oyster in it.
KILLED.—Tuesday as the train stopped at Penick's Station, Mr. J. Q. Coppage, a well-known trader from Gallatin, Tenn., who was aboard with stock, jumped off to talk with a friend. When the whistle sounded the starting signal, he ran to get back on, but missing his footing, fell, and the caboose passed over his leg fearfully mangleing it. He bore his pain manfully until told by the surgeons that amputation was necessary, when he appeared to give up entirely, and shortly after arriving at Lebanon, whence he had been taken, death relieved him of his suffering.
PROGRAMME FOR THE TOURNAMENT TO-NIGHT.—Gentlemen are to make three circuits against time and take the rings (six in number), on first round after the tap of the drum. The prize will be given to the most successful skater both time and rings considered in the decision. A premium also will be offered to the fastest lady skater. They will be required to make three circuits of the hall against time. They have the privilege of skating alone, or with any gentleman whom they may select. Parties skating are entitled to one round start. Admission, 25 cents; gallery 15 cents.
PETER CAIN AGAIN.—On the trial of this troublesome youth, Wednesday, before Judge Brown and a jury, he was acquitted of vagrancy by the skin of his teeth, but for shooting at the Sheriff, when they went to arrest him, he did not fare so nicely, for a verdict of six months in jail and a fine of $248 were assessed against him. Considering the offense and the character of the accused, even that punishment is far too light. A good long term in the Penitentiary, along with his brother who is now there for murder, would learn him a trade, and probably be the making of him.
BUILDINGS.—A number of substantial improvements have been made in Stanford this year.....Dr. J. B. Owsley & Son have built a double brick store-house two stories high.....Col. W. G. Welch has completed the handsome brick residence in the town, or the country either, for that matter.....Mr. S. H. Baughman has erected on Opera House Square, a large brick Livery and Sale Stable, with capacity for 100 horses.....McAllister & Mattingly built a $25,000 mill and elevator.....The Christian Church membership have completed a commodious and substantial brick church.
SHOT.—The other day a couple of Mrs. Peter Hamton's children were quarreling over a toy pistol. She saw at once which way was to blame, and seeing him by the arm she proceeded to apply her hand to that part of his anatomy most convenient for such operations. The little fellow had been there before, so he threw his hand and pistol to break the force of the blows, which caused the weapon to explode and wound him in the palm of the hand, in a most painful manner. This makes the 1000th person that has suffered by these dangerous toys and their sale ought to be prohibited by law.

BUSINESS.—Your account with Penny & McAllister will be ready 2 d of January. Call and settle.

A SUITE of rooms on the first floor in the Old Fellows' building for rent. Apply to Henry Baughman.
THE change in the management of the St. Asaph will not effect the Bar. Mr. J. D. Price will continue to run it.
ATTORNEY MILLER went to Highland yesterday to prosecute S. M. Carrier, for obtaining money under false pretenses from Pat Barry.
THIS has been the warmest, muddiest and rainiest Christmas for years. The undertaker and grave digger will get rich if all signs do not fail.
FOURTEEN couples went from here to the Concert, Supper and Skating carnival at Hustonville, Wednesday night. They had lots and cords of fun, of course.
BURIALS.—There have been buried in Buffalo Cemetery this year 22 persons—18 adults and 4 children. This is one less than last year and eleven more than the year before.
D. R. CARPENTER.—This young gentleman is announced to-day as a candidate for County Attorney. Those in a position to judge, say he is well read in the law, studious and fully competent to fill the office. He is besides popular and ambitious, and would endeavor to discharge his duty faithfully.
MARRIAGES.
—Notwithstanding the drought and hard times there were 15 more whites and 21 more colored couples married this year than last, the number being: Whites, 86; colored, 59.
—JOHNSTON—PHILLIPS.—In Lebanon, Tuesday, Mr. H. Wallace Johnston, a merchant, and Miss Rose L., daughter of H. B. Phillips, Esq., were married in the Baptist Church.

—Brother Barnes' friends here think the editor of the Apostolic Times is a fool.
—The Congregation at Washington, with which President Garfield worshipped, has decided to erect a memorial church on a site including the present one, and subscriptions are now being raised to that end. The new which President Garfield occupied, which is now unpollstered in black, and has a silver memorial plate upon it, will be placed in the new room, and have a similar position there to the one which it now holds in the present arrangement of seats. The adjoining lot, which has been purchased, will give for the new building a front of eighty-five feet and a depth of 110 feet.
LAND, STOCK AND CROP.
—A splendid farm of 130 acres for sale. Apply at this office 3c.
—J. E. Bruce sold to J. D. Price, 7 hogs weighing 240 pounds, at 61 cents.
—I have 46 Wayne county yearlings to sell at January Court in Stanford. G. C. Duncan. 2c.
—In Fleming county, Chas. Marshall sold to Jos. Hendrick, 37 mules—20 at $117.50 and 17 at $75.
—Cyrus M. Moberly bought of John M. Hall a yoke of 2,125 pound oxen for $60. Mr. M. sold several yokes at $65 to $100.
—WINCHESTER.—Last Monday was Court day in this place, and a very dull one. About 300 head of cattle on the market, selling at $3.00 to 4.00; pig horses $20 to $40.
—Mr. George P. Bright has left at our office a hand of White Barley tobacco of his own raising, that is hard to beat. It is very long and bright, and he says he has 2,000 pounds like it.
—Col. Thos. W. Varmon has purchased from Mrs. D. J. Breckinridge, 1,900 acres of Knob land near the L. & N. extension in Whitley county, at $1 per acre. He says there are 500 acres of excellent coal lands on it.
—The cattle of Bedford and Kennedy, of Bourbon county, took the prizes at the cattle show, in New York, the other day, over a large number of competitors. A herd of five took the $100 prize, and a bullock, weighing 2,750 pounds, a $50 prize.
—CINCINNATI.—The cattle market is steady at $2 to $3 for common; $3.25 to $4 for good to choice butcher; $4.75 to $6.25 for good to extra shippers; good feeding steers $3.50 to $4.25. The weather has been unfavorable for hog packing, but the prices are steady. Best shippers $6.50 to $6.65; common $5 to $5.65; Sheep are firm at 2 1/2 to 5 cents.
LINCOLN COUNTY.
Hustonsville.
BLUE GRASS FARM.—Miss N. Cooper and Mrs. Mary Ellis wish to sell their farm adjoining Hustonsville. About 112 acres, comfortable house, good water, &c. Come and see before purchasing.
—In the evening of life the usual rejoicings of a holiday season lose the interest which they once possessed. Hence at a period when youth is jubilant, when health and activity and hope paint every scene in romantic hues, the thinner blood, and sluggish pulse, and palsied limbs of age, gather closer to the ingle side. Hence too, the aged ones are not fit chroniclers of the gladsome events of this festive season. True, memory might speak, but memory is wont peremptorily to dwell on sombre themes utterly at variance with the prevailing harmony of the time. The carnival with us, has passed this far without accident or casualty. Festivities and frolic have been, and are, the order of the day. The return of absent ones has brought gladness to many a friends. The enjoyment seems to be contagious, and we feel of necessity a disposition to "rejoice with them that do rejoice." While I write the "voluptuous swell" of music is echoing from the Concert halls where a large audience are collected. I looked for a moment, but my "complimentary" was impotent to unveil to me the mysteries of the supper room, and as I have a better ear for oysters than for opera—have a more cultivated taste for salads than for symphonies—am far better skilled in coffee than in Cantata—in short, have a livelier appreciation of the art of cooking than of the science of sweet sounds, I came away glad of a place "where next is found" and quiet reigns. But I will not bore the interior with the meditations—however wise—however philosophical—however profitable—suggested by the powerful parting of the dying year. Good night! and peace be with you all.

Engleman's Mill.
—James Engleman sold to F. W. Miller, of Lancaster, 100 head of sheep at $2.50 per head.
—Christmas has come and gone, and those two good-looking young men are still on the market. We kinder think that they started that report themselves.
—A certain young gentleman of this place, that is now very white, and fearing that the use of coffee will spoil his complexion, went to Hustonsville this week to see if he could procure a certain kind of Tea.
—Miss Ellis Engleman and Mr. Robert Gentry, Jr., went to Nicholasville this week, Miss Ellis on a visit to Miss Mary Froman, and Mr. Gentry, on business.
—Miss Adel Thorel, of Danville, was the guest of Miss Luella Bright, this week.
—Miss Ella Barker, of Danville, on a visit to relations.
—Miss Ella Barker, of Danville, spent several days with Miss Fannie Swopes.
—Mr. S. E. Owsley and family, of Laurel, spent Christmas with relations and friends here.
—Miss Clark Engleman contemplates a visit to St. Louis Mo., after the holidays.
—Some thief went into the granary of Mr. Strother Yeager, a few nights ago, and helped himself to a few bushels of wheat. He had no sacks, and it was rather late in the night. He didn't care to disturb Mr. Yeager's quiet slumbers, thinking, perhaps, that he might be dreaming sweetly of the advent of old Santa, so he went to the stable and procured a horse and a large threshing sack, and carried off his booty. He was kind enough, though, to send the horse back the next morning, but kept the sack and bridle.
—Christmas passed off unusually quiet in this vicinity, and nothing took place to gladden the hearts of the young folks save the Christmas tree at Bright's School-house, which was a decided success. At an early hour the house was filled to overflowing, so that standing room was above par. Superintendent Rigney opened services with prayer, then a song by the Choir. After singing, Mr. Myron Luce, made a very appropriate little speech on the occasion, then the tree began to be relieved of its great weight of Christmas fruit, by the distribution of presents, which took an hour or more. Every thing went off quietly with the exception of a little noise made by some young gentlemen that had imbibed a little too freely of corn juice, but they soon found out that they were in the wrong pew, and kept rather mute.
—PRAISE THE LORD.
LIBERTY, Casey Co., Ky., Dec. 25, '81.
Dear Brother—
We had a narrow escape from Jamestown. The closing of the meeting on the 12th day seemed to many, premature, but our dear LORD knows just when to close his meetings, and when, on the morning of Tuesday, last week, the evening skies seemed to be on the ground! And it continued to pour rain, that day, the next, and the next; and Green River changed its crystal current to an impassible torrent of muddy water, with South Fork and Goose Creek to match, and all between us and Jamestown, instead of between us and Liberty, the most skeptical began to think that the LORD's hand was in the supposed premature movement. I am so glad we have nothing to do with the marching arrangements except to strike tents at OUR CAPTAIN'S command, when the "pillar of cloud" moves on; or pitch them when that hallo—still each day "a days march nearer home." The skies did not fully brighten nor the streams become comfortably passable until Saturday.
Liberty is so situated that a rise in the waters makes it peculiarly inaccessible on all sides. The bridges, to remedy this inconvenience, are not yet constructed, and so you can readily see how it has been with the meeting thus far. The nights have been pitch dark, the mud horrible, and the discomfort in "turning out" excessive. My only wonder is that the congregations have been as good as they were and are. PRAISE THE LORD that results have been as good as 70 for the soul and 31 anointed for bodily healing. 63 of that number, for the soul, is the harvest of this Christmas day and night, 27 chose to-night, a glorious Christmas gift, for which we are lovingly glad and thankful. At a children's meeting this afternoon, every child on the front seats—34 in all—came. This is an unprecedented experience. The moral sky in Casey brightens beautifully. O how thankful we are.
I was rejoiced to hear from a dear friend in Richmond, that Mr. and Mrs. Brutus Clay had given the dwelling house they have just vacated, in order to move into their new home, for a "Faith Cure." PRAISE THE LORD.
For I knew that HE would have a "Cure" somewhere in Kentucky. Where and how I knew not, but this good news sweetly "fills the bill."
And so our little PINK COTTAGE "is not dead, but sleepeth," for the dear LORD of resurrection still lives and has "all power in Heaven and on Earth" in HIS hands. I can't bear to see this little child of the LORD's love pass off the scene of its brief life without some notice, and if you will give it room I will write a more cheerful obituary than that given by the correspondent of the Kentucky Advertiser, which I was pained to read for the writer's sake. Some day he will be willing to give a right eye or arm to cancel the memory of that letter.

It is most that this "first witness of the LORD'S power to heal the body should die. It is the way consecrated by Abel and Stephen, not to say our dear LORD Himself, who indeed, was a martyr, no less than a Savior. It is not without its significance in this connection that "witness" and "martyr" are synonymous. Those who lead the forlorn hope "die covered with glory—but they die." So tell the dear little PINK COTTAGE, whose history is now all in the "eternal past." I am so thankful to the good LORD that the dear little martyr fell with its "face like the face of an angel" and dispensing blessing without ceasing to the last. In almost the last week of its brief life, the cure of Mrs. Lyle, attested the unchanging favor of the "Great Physician," and His power and willingness to save unto the uttermost. This young Stephen lifts dying hands to bless; this beauteous Abel dies to make way for a seed from the LORD which Cain can not slay. Seth means "replaced" and dear Brother and sister Clay's noble gift to the LORD replaces its weaker predecessor, which yet, gets first to heaven and starts there a song not heard by Celestials before. The mission of Seth is a glorious one on earth, but Abel's in heaven is yet more so, as heaven is higher than the earth. I had rather live a brief life and die a martyr, than live long and die in my bed. If I might suggest a name for the new "Faith Cure" it would be the "Seth Faith Cure." This will keep the line of succession intact. Whether the change from Lincoln to Madison suggests such Scriptures as Matt. 21: 43, and Matt. 23: 28, 29—and James 5: 1-3, it may be well for such as the Advertiser's correspondent and others to ponder. I am glad I have not the deciding of that matter. But certain it is, the PINK COTTAGE is linked inseparably with the Eternal destiny of more than one, favorably or adversely.
For the rest, I am glad that my dear and early friend Jas. M. Wray, will enjoy the long labor of my hands. No worthier gentleman could own it. The LORD is so good to give me this pleasant winding up of the only earthly estate I ever had. God forbid that I should ever be encountered with another in any shape.
I am also thankful to my Heavenly Father that it stands recorded in the Clerk's Office that the place sold for just the mortgage and interest. No one is wronged, therefore, and no penny of profit comes to me from the little creature's early death. I would as soon wish to get money by a life insurance on my dear wife as to get a cent from the stopping of a "faith cure." PRAISE THE LORD I am no pecuniary gainer by the demise of my dear little PINK COTTAGE. For all the kind words you have spoken for it, dear Walton (and they have not been few), may heaven bless you. It is not the least significant thing connected with this and other works of the LORD that the "religious press" has either completely ignored it or sneered at it, and that my avenue of communication with the public should be a "secular" paper, run by one whom I so tenderly wish to be a child of God, but who is not. Yet do I fondly believe that while this kindness, so generous, to "one of the least of Jesus' brethren" will not purchase heaven, it will be the starting point of better things, and may be the means of drawing to the Cross where we all must come or perish.
The weather looks now, as if settled for another "wet spell." All right, and always right. PRAISE THE LORD, wet or dry, cold or hot, light or dark. Ever in Jesus.
